ROMA TRE

Altiero Spinelli Centre

Altiero Spinelli Centre was founded in 2003 with the financial contribution of the European Commission, within the framework of the Jean Monnet Action for the establishment of university centres of excellence, to support research and training activities in the field of European integration studies.

The Centre is dedicated to Altiero Spinelli, one of the most illustrious figures of European federalism, whose work and whose commitment, since the "Manifesto di Ventotene", marked the start of the integration process and its development, in particular with the 1984 Draft Treaty establishing the European Union (commonly known as "Spinelli Project"), which has become a major source of inspiration for all the European Union (EU) Treaties.

The Centre, founded on the initiative of the Jean Monnet Chair of EU Law and Institutions (active since 1999), operates for the promotion of research and training activities in a number of thematic areas, ranging from European citizenship and fundamental rights to European common policies, environmental protection, cultural goods and services, immigration policies and intercultural dialogue, uniform law and European legal systems, European area of higher education.

and the President of CeAS, Luigi Moccia (March 2006)

Collaborations and Internationalization

CeAS collaborates with various Italian institutions, public and private bodies, such as national and local authorities, research centres, higher education institutes, organizations and associations, for the development of scientific and cultural activities.

The Centre is assignee of funds granted by the Italian Ministry of University and Research (MIUR) and of EU funds, with which it has developed and implemented research and training projects, also in collaboration with partners from both European countries (including Belgium, France, Romania, Spain) and non-European countries (including Argentina, Australia, Brazil, China).

CeAS is also a member of the Fundamental Rights Platform (FRP), the European network of collaboration and information between civil society and the European Agency for Fundamental Rights (FRA).

Among the most recent initiatives, figures the collaboration with the Al-Babtain Foundation (Kuwait) to establish the Euro-Arab Institute for the Dial.ogue between Cultures.

Research activities

The Centre, in support of its activities, provides fellowships for young researchers.

CeAS has is also engaged in a wide range of publications (printed and online), and regularly organizes conferences, meetings, seminars, debates, with the participation of scholars, experts, professionals and representatives of institutions and civil society.

In this way, the Centre aims to take an active part in the debate on institutional dynamics and socio-political and cultura! issues affecting the progress of the process of European integration.

Projects: completed and in progress

European Citizenship for the Europe of peoples and the peace in the world

This is the pilot project around which the Centre has arisen and which characterizes its mission to promote a culture of European integration that has as its core the idea of a Europe of citizens. The project, funded by the Italian Ministry of University and Research as part of the 2009-2011 program of internationalization, confirming the Centre's high scientific and cultural value, intends to provide specific contributions of study, investigation and critical reflection on one of the pivotal themes of European integration, being the citizens its priority.

Related to the project are the main series of printed publications of the Centre: the periodicals La cittadinanza europea and Quaderni del Centro Altiero Spinelli, in addition to the other activities related to the organization on an annual basis of the Giornate per l'Europa (European Days).

Cultura! assets in the European Union: policies for the safeguarding and developing cultura! goods and activities and the harmonization of national legislations

This project, started with the support of the Italian Ministry of Cultura! Heritage and Activities (MIBAC), has focused on EU and national laws concerning the circulation and promotion of cultura! heritage, resulting in the creation of a database for online consultation of the relevant documentation regarding the promotion and protection of cultura! heritage in the European context.

Dialogue between cultures in the Euro-Mediterranean region

Originally set up in collaboration with Anna Lindh Foundation for the dialogue between cultures, the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MAE), the Italian Ministry of Cultural Heritage and Activities (MIBAC), and other public and private bodies, this project is aimed at developing and testing research and teaching methods and activities for the training of a multipurpose professional expert profile in Euro-Mediterranean policies for integration. The project is linked to the Master in European Citizenship and Euro-Mediterranean integration. Cultural heritage as a Factor of cohesion and development.

The Euro-Arab Institute: A project for Peace

The Euro-Arab Institute for the Dialogue between Cultures is an initiative promoted by CeAS in collaboration with Fondazione Al-Babtain (Istanbul), the Foundation of Mediterranean Studies (Tunisia), and the Centre for Mediterranean Europe Studies-Meseuro (Belgium). The opening ceremony of the Institute took place on November 9, 2012 in the Great Hall of the University "Roma Tre," at the presence of academic authorities, representatives of European and international institutions, government representatives and ambassadors of the Mediterranean countries and the Arabic world.

The activities of the Institute, hosted at the CeAS, are supported by the Al-Babtain Foundation and are aimed to pursue the following objectives:

- Reinforcing intercultural dialogue and related behaviors across European and Arab societies; so that it becomes a way of life in dealing with cultural differences
- Implementing dialogue between various cultures, civilizations and religions, and expanding it towards more useful intellectual exchange
- Stimulating civil society associations as vital tool in the culture of dialogue, tolerance and mutual understanding
- Reinforcing the diversity of arts and literature, creativity and freedom in the framework of global values and international law

"Europe goes to school": how to become European citizens

Promoted in collaboration with the European Commission and European Parliament (Representation in Italy), the project has been addressed to high schools in the City of Rome, in order to stimulate students participation in meetings, debates, workshops, laboratories, interactive forums on EU topics, as a driver of social and civic growth, focusing on education as a key factor for the development of a full European civic awareness. On proposal and with commitment of CeAS the Rome Municipality set up in 2009 the Prize "Young people future of Europe", awarded to classes of the participating schools.

Modules of the Jean Monnet Chair

These teaching modules are assigned to qualified experts in support to the curriculum of the Master course in European citizenship and Euro-Mediterranean integration and of the regular courses of the Jean Monnet Chair.

Other training activities

Among other training activities, CeAS has organized several courses and seminars, including, more recently, the followings:

Training activities on behalf of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, Department for European Affairs - Cycle of seminars, (29-31 May 2012);

Training activities on behalf of the "Lazio" Region (Regional Directorate for productive activities) - Cycle of seminars on "Citizenship, business and local and regional dimension of the European Union" (July-December 2012);

EuroMed Seminars: The Socio-Political Dialogue in the Euro-Mediterranean Region - Cycle of Seminars (November 2012) organized by CeAS in collaboration and with the support of the Euro-Arab Institute for the Dialogue between Cultures, and attended by government officials from North African countries, with the objective of deepen and discuss matters of common interest in the framework of the Euro-Mediterranean relations.

Publications

The Centre supports a series of printed publications, including the followings:

"La cittadinanza europea"- bi-annual journal

The journal aims to contribute to a multidisciplinary approach to the study of EU, with special emphasis on political-institutional, legal, socio-economic, historical and cultural aspects of the European integration process, without losing sight of the scenarios in the global context. The journal is articulated in a section of "Essays", accompanied by a series of regular columns: "Archive," dedicated to present protagonists, events and/or documents of the history of European integration; "Glossary," dedicated to illustrate technical/ common usage terms of EU lexicon; "Dossier," dedicated to review judgments of the European Court of Justice, and generally official documents records of particular relevance.

In addition, the "European Observatory" welcomes, from time to time, contributions comparing experiences in the context of individual EU member states..

"Quaderni del Centro Altiero Spinelli" - series of studies (monographs)

The series is placed in the wider context of European studies, moving from the idea of Europe as a scientific-cultural laboratory challenging traditional structures, testing old and new categories, economic and social realities, political and institutional models that lead to the attention of a wider audience interested in learning, deepening and evaluating themes and issues of European relevance.

Other printed publications are available for download from the website of the Centre. They are the following:

Quaderni della Rivista "La cittadinanza europea"

Series of monographs, published over the period 2002-2005 as additional issues to the journal "La cittadinanza europea".
